Welcome to NAIMH Endorsement

IMH-E® categories have specific work, education, in-service training, and reflective supervision and consultation requirements.

Nebraska's Infant Mental Health (NAIMH) program is continually expanding!

NAIMH is fortunate to have a growing number of endorsed professionals — including therapists, educators, policy makers, home visitors, nurses, and many others.

The Competency Guidelines for Endorsement for Culturally Sensitive, Relationship-Focused Practice Promoting Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health® (Endorsement) are internationally recognized credentials that support and recognize the development and proficiency of professionals who work with or on behalf of pregnant women, young children, birth up to 3 years old, and their families.

Next steps:

- Learn about IMH-E categories and requirements
- Join NAIMH
- Apply for endorsement
- Grow and develop in your field by becoming endorsed
- Better support the groups you work with
